THE AMERICAN CHURCH MONTHLY. - We have received the first number of a new periodical under this title. The high literary reputation of the editor, the Rev. H. N. Hudson, is admirably sustained by the salutatory in this opening number. Mr. Hudson is known, whereever the English language is spoken, by his original and graphic lectures on fifty hands on the first of January, passed the money Shakspeare, and as the editor of the best edition of the great poet ever issued. The long and familiar acquaintance of Mr. H. with the pure and noble ghts and with the "English undefiled" of this mighty master of the soul has imparted to his own style a richness, raciness, quaintness, and beauty that are most refreshing. We know of no author in America at all equal to Mr. Hudson in the combination of these qualities. We therefore congratulate the public that a mind so healthful and so powerful is fully enlisted in this enterprise. He says: "We have made up our mind that the thing onght to be done and must done. In this persuasion we now and henceforth stand addressed to the task: all the care and dilligence and energy we can muster will be brought to bear upon the American Chnrch Monthly."

That a literary and religious monthly conducted under such auspices and in the spirit here foreshadowed will do a great deal toward elevating and purifying the tone of American literature none can doubt. One or two extracts from the opening paper will indicate the spirit of the work, and furnish some idea of the style of the editor. After saying that of the day," he adds:

of the day," he adds:

Nevertheless, we are in principle and feeling thoroughly American; we love our National Institutions; we firmly believe in our great Coustitutional Democracy; we look with wonder and awe upon our superb and nighty structure of a Confederated Republic; and we cherish as a sacred treasure the high gift of Liberty Informed with Religion and protected by Law. Every year adds to our sense of the beanty and strength of our political Fabric, and also our reverence for the Fathers who wrought out and handed it down to us. As Americans, we can know no sectional lines, nor shake hands with any thought of sectional disintegrathe thin the stand unreservedly for our country, our whork country, as it is, with its nohic inheritance of Freedom, Intelligence, and Order.

In regard to the separation of religion from literature and art. Mr. Hudson says beautifully:

In regarat to the separation of religion from interature and art, Mr. Hudson says beautifully:

The cause of religion cannot but suffer much, in the long run, from such an unnatural divorcement. Christianity, and therefore the Church, can ill afford to stand aboof in a cort of high and dry dignity, as who would say to the accomplishments and genialities of liberal thought, "I have no need of yon." Her ends are indeed far above them, but are not to be fully reached without them. For the alliance between pure religion and the arts of good taste is much more natural and Intimate than many of us are signed to imagine. A petrified or anatomized theology is neither a very handsome nor a very operative thing; it must condeced to the proper robings and adornings of fiesh and blood, and discourse its high thoughts in the music of himmality, before it can really master the springs of life. The graces, the embellishments, the delectations of the most varied and generous culture; whateover is any way adapted to elevate, to replenish, to heautify the intellect and rational spirit of man; all these things belong of right to the Church; they have a just claim on her patronage, and will well repay her fostering care; whereas, if spurned at or slighted by her, they will be sure to Indemnify themselves by making reprisals on her most necessary commerce. For we may lay it down as a certain truth, that, unless the honest faculties and resonress of literature and art be duly cherished and honored in the service of the Church, they will set up a service of their own against her, and in spite of her. There is not, there probably cannot be, anything in this world so good or so strong, hut that it must sacrifice to the Graces.

The women are the cutest and sharpest and cunningest and trickiest of all mortals; but occasionally they come across an old widower who is up to their games and who readily foils them. For in stance: yesterday there called at the jail a welldressed lady, of pleasing appearance, who desired to go through the prison in the character of a philanthropist. But Mr. Henry Thomas, who has some knowledge of mankind, immediately discovered something wrong, and very happily prevented the entrance of the charitable lady. Had he not been so discreet we might have been forced to record a ja Relivery.

Collins, whose examination before the police court is noticed elsewhere this morning, proves to be an escaped felon from the Bedford (Ind.) jail He was recommitted to jail last evening and will be returned to Indiana.

THE LECTURE LAST NIGHT .- Prof. Dana was greeted with a large and intelligent audience. His lecture opened with a sketch of the area of the coral islands of the Pacific which do not exceed that of the State of New York, if we except a few of the larger islands although they are more than six hnndred in number. Among these are islands whose crags, peaks, and gorges rival those of the Alps, and amidst these scenes, some of which would aid in our conceptions of a world in ruins the tree-fern and palm flourish with singular laxuriance.

The coral polyp next claimed attention. Its wonderful powers of reproduction and secretion formed a theme both novel and interesting. The ethnology and zoology of this strange portion of cosmical history called forth the admiration of the audience as evinced by their countenances. The lecture closed by a small sketch of the subsidence of the Pacific continent and its relation to the forms assumed by coral islands.

At the close of the lecture, Prof. J. Lawrence Smith arose and proposed to detain Prof. Dana until Saturday night when he should deliver one more lecture, which was hailed with rapturous applause by the andience. Prof. Dana generously accepted and will again afford an intellectual treat.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The proceedings yesterday were as follows:

John Sanders, for stealing brass boxes of the value of $15, the property of Richard Smith, was convicted and sentenced to two years confinement in the Mary Mack having stolen from Mrs. Halena Hyman three silk dresses, worth $5 each, was convicted and sent for one year.

Polly Grimes, who says her real name is Catherine Flanner, who had stolen a gold watch from Mrs. Anne Simpson valued at $100, was sent to the penitentiary for one year. Polly had to be carried out of the court-room in the arms of two or three officers, obstinately refusing to walk.

The following cases were continued to the next term:

Isaac Gumsey, for stealing from Sproule & Mandeville.

Elisha Hillier, charged with enticing away a slave of J. W. Newland.

John Clifton, stealing casinet goods from E. H. Bland.

Joseph Hankel, Regina Hankel, and Gothart Huber, for murder of Henry Roth.

Wm. Grissman, for passing counterfeit money.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD .- Our accounts from New York are most encouraging. Upwards of $60,000 was being paid in upon the instalments. A deputy engineer, sent from Marshall in Texas for funds to complete the payment of four hundred and at New Orleans. The calculation was that ten miles would be ready by the 5th of February, and the law will certainly be complied with.

New stockholders at New York are taking hold. The amount of $25,000 is arranged to be paid monthly for ten months. The magnificent enterprise will not be allowed to languish. It will make the fortunes of all connected with it and contribute vastly toward making the fortnne of the Southern country and of the whole country.

BONDS OF LOUISVILLE.-There is to be found in the monetary circles of the country no description of bonds of a better class and more profitable than those put forth by our city. They command the best price in the eastern markets notwithstanding the unpatriotic and impolitic attempts of certain city papers to depreciate the credit of the city. Yesterday one of our leading Main street merchants received an order from the trustees of one of the leading literary institutions of the State, to invest a large sum in the bonds of the city. The funds were contributed for the endowment of the institution of the city. We are sure that they could not be invested more securely, and we commend the wisdom of the order. Lou-"we shall not directly have any share in the politics is ville credit is appreciated abroad, say what some of her her own citizens will to its prejudice.

LOCATION OF THE WATER WORKS .- Considerable anxiety is being expressed relative to the selection of a site for the proposed water works. It is highly desirable that the directory should not commit any indiscretion in their action, and thus prostrate this noble enterprise. Due prudence should be exercised, and an especial regard had to economy. We understand that two location east of the city are spoken of-between which we have no doubt the board will exercise care on the final selection, paying attention to eligibility, cheapness, and proximity.

The mercantile agency of Douglass & Co., of New York, have published a table of failures in the United States during the year 1856. The total number was 2,705, of which about 150 are designated as swindling failures. The number of failures in Kentucky mentioned is 38.

RANK FAILURES .- A dispatch from Indianapolis from Dunlevy, Haire, & Co., received by Messrs. Thos. Browne & Co., last evening, states that the Gramercy Bank of Lafayette and the Shawnee Bank of Attica have failed.

Charley Talbott and Frank Smith, notorious characters about the dens of infamy in this city. were of the number that escaped from the Madiso jail on Tuesday night.

Phil. Lee, Esq., the gallant American elector for the Fifth district in the late canvass, and S. Carpenter, of Bardstown, were in the city yesterday.

Wm. Porter, an old work-house convict, was returned to jail yesterday, having been drunk and disorderly.

The Cincinnati Commercial says that it is a fixed fact that the next Ohio State Fair is to be held in the vicinity of that city.

Scgar.-A correspondent of the St. Louis Re publican concludes some strictures upon an editorial of the Republican in regard to the duty on suga with the following pointed suggestions: Having corrected some errors, allow me to suggest to your readers—

First—It is evident we cannot rely upon Louisians for the supply of what is absolutely one of the prime necessaries of life.

of life.

Second—That it is not democratic or light to tax enormously the people of thirty States and several Territories for the protection of a small interest in one State.

And third—That upblic sentiment will no longer toierate the import duty on sugar. The sooner Secretary Guthrie recommends its abrogation the better it will be for his fame, and for the good of the people whose interests he is bound to consult.

THE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY - Afternoon lession .- President Clay being in the Chair the Corresponding Secretary's report was read and filed for publication. The thanks of the society were voted to R. W. Scott for the very efficient manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office.

The Treasnrer's Report was read and referred to an auditing committee.

It was voted that annual members, are expected to pay their fees, by the first Monday in May of each year.

It was also voted that delegates from the County Agricultural and Mechanical Associations, be re quested to meet in Frankfort, on the first Tuesday in March to harmonize and fix the time for holding their respective fairs.

The thanks of the society were voted to Gov Morehead for his able, address at the first exhibi-

The subject of the Farm Journal (the organ of the society) was discussed. It was warmly advocacated as an ably conducted paper and a very important support to the interests of the society and the cause of agriculture.

Several speakers urged its claims to a larger patronage from the society. One gentleman proffered to become one of ten to procure 50 subscribers and several members volunteered to secure 10 subscribers each.

Resolutions were unanimously passed recom nending the boards of this society and the different county societies to extend its circulation by awardit as premiums.

Altogether this meeting, though not very largely attended, was a harmonious and profitable one. We ook upon the Kentucky State Agricultural Society as a permanent and very useful institution. By the way, the very efficient Corresponding Secretary has established the nucleus of a museum and library, in a room assigned to this society at the Capitol, which promises to be an important feature. Farmers in different parts of the State, should bear in mind that specimens of insects, birds, and other objects of natural history as well as minerals, fossils, and the various kinds of grain will be acceptable donations

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS

The weather was very cold night before last but it vas again moderating last night.

The fine steamer Highflyer leaves Cairo for New Orleans on Wednesday next.

The steamers Hiawatha and N. Thomas have arrived at Cairo. The former broke one of her engines and the Thomas broke one of her cranks, cylinder heads, and pitman-strop.

Mr. Gilliss introduced an ordinance in the mmon council last night providing means for a supply of fuel for the immediate wants of the citizens. It also provided that two thousand dollars be appropriated to procure fuel for the poor. The ordinance passed the common council, but the aldermen adjourned before its passage in the conncil. The two boards meet again on Thursday.

of yesterday, says:

Yesterday we noticed the prevalence of a heavy feeling in the provision market. The market opened to-day with a slightly improved feeling, and this was further strengthened by favorableadvices from New York and New Orleans received on 'Change. The fact that prices improved in New York, notwithstanding the discouraging news from Europe, inspired holders with increased confidence. Still, it is apparent that prices are sustained by a very slender thread, which would snap under a comparatively triding weight. With the exception of some transactions in sugarcured hams, for future delivery, at 11½c, the husiness of the day was unimportant. Bulk meat was to be had at 7½ and 8½c for shoulders and sides. The highest previous quotations were Tylegolic. We heard of some inquiry for box middles, which are held at 9,69½c for long and short. We quote lard at 11½ @12c for prime bbl and keg.

NORTHWESTERN (Va.) RAILROAD .- The Parkersburg News, in announcing the laying of the last rail on this road, says:

The scene was one gratifying to all, and created much excitement among the workmen, who had toiled so faithfully to effect it, and the many spectators who had been assembled to witness it.

Immediately after laying the last rail, loc No. 2 passed over the junction point, amid lond cheers, and, after waiting a few hours for the completion of the spiking, was attended back to Parkersburg by the large Campbell engine No. 6, where their arrival was hailed by the firing of cannons, and the general rejoicing of a large number citizens who were in waiting at the depot. who were in waiting at the depot.

THIRTY-FOURTH CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION Thursday's Proceedings Coucluded. WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.

Senute.—On motion of Mr. Pugh, a resolution was adopted requesting the Secretary of the Treasnry to inform the Senate what would be the annual ary to inform the Senate what would be the annual income of the Government according to such estimates as he may be able to make, if one-fifth of the duties on such imported articles authorized by the tariff act of July, 1856, should be remitted; what if one-fourth should be remitted; and what if one-third should be remitted.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the fourse bill providing for the settlement of the

Mr. Foster earnestly supported the measure, placing in a strong light the services and sufferings of those who periled their lives in the struggle, and arguing that, in consequence of the depreciation of value in the certificates in which they were paid.

They were justly entitled to the consideration of Congress.

Congress.

Mr. Pugh offered an amendment striking out the first and second sections and inserting that there shall be paid to each of the surviving soldiers em-braced by the resolution of Congress of the 23d of March, 1783, the difference between the amounts specified in the certificate issued to him under the terms of said resolution and the value in money of the said certificate at the time it was issued and received. This amendment was adopted—yeas 26, nays 21.

Mr. Toombs inquired of Mr. Fish whether the latter was not interested in the bill and thereby disqualified from voting.

Mr. Fish replied that he was sent here by the State of New York, and had a right, under the State of New York, and had a right, under the Constitution, to vote, as her representative, on any bill before Congress. He would state to the Senator from Georgia, inasmuch as he had raised the question, that he would be entitled to receive something nuder this bill, if it should pass; but that, in no case, should a cent of the money which he would receive go into his own pocket. He would divest himself of all interest in the matter and give whatever sum might come to him to the representatives of the New York line who served in the Revolutionary war, and for whom no provision had been ary war, and for whom no provision had been

Mr. Cass said that when the bill was first intro duced he favored it, but the investigation which it had undergone satisfied him that it was improper. He should, therefore, vote against the whole of it, unless jestice be rendered to the soldiers as well as to the officers.

A further debate ensued on other amendments, and, without taking the question on the bill,

The Senate adjourned.

House.—Mr. Chapman introduced a bill for the House.—Mr. Chapman introduced a bill for the construction of a wagon road from the South pass of the Rocky Mountains in Nebraska Territory, via Great Salt Lake valley to Honey Lake valley, in the eastern portion of the State of California, and the establishment of a military post thereupon; and a bill making further appropriations for a territorial road now in process of construction from opposite Council Bluffs, Iowa to New Fort Kearney.

The Committee reported a bill increasing the penalty for voluntary absence of members of either House, making a deduction of twenty-five dollars from their compensation whether a Sunday shall intervene or both branches have adjourned over a day or more. Exception is made in the case of sickness of the members or of their families.

The House then went again into Committee of the Whole on the tariff bill.

Mr. Keitt said that he was opposed to all free lists in measures of this kind because they would render it necessary to the extent of exemption, additional aduties on articles which were taxed. Branching from this subject he alluded to the slave trade. Notwithstanding all efforts for its suppression, it had gone from 45,000 to 150,000 souls per annum, while the mortality among them had increased from 5 to 50 per cent. The African cruisers were not fitted out in the South but in Boston, New York, and Varthers sites. Northern cities. The framers of the Constitution foreboded the formation of geographical parties, and prophesied the dissolving influences on the Union. It would not be bound by treacherous combinations nor quieted by sentimental invocations. Some gentlemen announced a political millenium on the event of the election of Mr. Buchanan but who was to come into the Senate from the State of the President elect, where he received 30,000 majority? Was he (Mr. Cameron) np. A true man was not elected. It was either because of a dereliction of duty on the part of national men or because they were in a minority in the Legislature. If e did not speak of these things with pleasure, nor mean to compromise the future for the tranquility of the present, or help to consolidate any party which amalgamates strength without establishing rejneitible.

lishing principle. The irresistible tendency of the event was to sectional organizations. He did not agree with many friends as to the immateriality of the doctrine of squatter sovereignty. He regarded it as a most dangerons, mischievous, and demoralising doctrine. Union, exercising power of government as agents, are to be put down by squatters. When men say are to be put down by squatters. When men say that slavery depends upon police, they assert that those who go to the Territories may coufiscate property recognised by other parts of the Union, and this only paves the way for the other doctrine that property, over and above the Constitution, may be stricken down. The slavery agitation, so far from being crushed out by the late election, has been increased. Slavery existed prior to law. It was as being crushed out by the late election, has been increased. Slavery existed prior to law. It was as old as the institution of marriage, or the individuality of property. It did not rise from compact or violence, but grew up like any other rudimentary constitution. He argued that it was the very foundation. constitution. He argued that it was the very foundation of the glory and refinement of Athens and Rome. Although the Ethiopian has for 5000 years been in contact with superior civilization, he is a savage still. He repeated that the tendency of affairs was to the formation of geographical parties which would lead to a dissolution of the Union, and in this connection should the power and resources of in this connection should the power and resources of the South contending that she is able to save her in this connection should the power and resources of the South contending that she is able to save her soil from invasion and conquest and her flag from dishonor. The Sonth must and will expand. She will carry her institutions into the surrounding States where governments are falliag and people are lapsing into mongrelism. The States' Rights men of the South, numbering nine-tenths of the citizens, will rally round the standard of progress. Whatever else may perish, those institutions will be saved.

Mr. Bell said that Mr. Keitt had succeeded in showing that from the earliest period the world had been subject to rapine and bloodshed, and accounted for the fact. He had succeeded in showing that those brilliant little republics to which he alluded, soon fell and faded from existence, because their institutions were founded on force and injustice rather than on law, and also as the world had progressed in civilization all portions except his beloved Arabs are turning their attention to the amelioration of labor.

Mr. Stanton remarked that it seemed to him the committee ought to determine whether it would do business or not. He therefore raised, as a point of order, that the remarks of Mr. Bliss were not pertinent to the question pending. He preferred making this point on his personal friend.

Mr. Giddings hoped a gentleman from the North would not undertake to apply a gag, when the freedom of speech had been so largely indulged in on the opposite side of the chamber.

The chrirman, Mr. Washburn, of Me., under the impression that it had been recently ruled that a general discussion was out of order, decided that Mr. Bliss must confine himself to the question pending.

Mr. Wade appealed from the decision, which the committee overruled.

Mr. Wade appealed from the decision, which the committee overruled.

Mr. Bliss said he would now reply to Mr. Keitt. He had not prepared himself to speak on the President's message. He then reviewed that document, taking exceptions to the positions therein assumed, relative to slavery, and contending for constitutional power to prohibit it in the Territories.

The committee arose and the House adjourned.

Supreme Court of the United States—The Cabinet—Mr. Barney and the French Minister, etc. WASHINGTON, Jan. 12, 1857.

A case, interesting to the legal profession, was decided in the Supreme Court this morning. It appears that a Mr. Secor was dismissed as an attorney and counsellor from the bar of the Supreme appears that a Mr. Secor was dismissed as an attorney and counsellor from the bar of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Minnesota, on the ground that he had by his acts been guilty of a wilful violation of the law governing courts, and by which he was sworn to conduct himself with fidelity to the court. Mr. Secor complained that he was dismissed without having an opportunity to be heard in his own defence, and in fact did not know that he had been dismissed until the adjournment of the court. Mr. Secor, therefore, applied to the Supreme Court of the United States that a rule might issue to the Minnesota court to show cause for its action in his case. The Supreme Court of the United States decided that he is not entitled to remedy by mandamus, and that the proceedings of the court below, no matter how erroneous, could not be thus reversed. It was plain the court had acted in pursuance of the law and had exercised its power in the manner sanctioned by the common law.

law and had exercised its power in the manner sanctioned by the common law.

The subject of the "new cabinst" affords to the ingenious "gentlemen of the press" in this city a fine opportunity for exercising their guessing powers. The results sometimes are really amusing; but as certain correspondents feel under obligations to shoot ahead of their contemporaries they consequently draw long bows, the arrows from which not only miss but go far abead of the imaginary mark. Much, if not all, of the remarks as to who are to compose the cabinet are founded on mere conjecture. It is true, however, that more than a score of aspi-compose the cabinet are founded on mere conjecture. It is true, however, that more than a score of aspirants for high executive station have their several coteries of friends "puffing" them into prominence and thrusting them, by ingenious means, into the face of Mr. Buchanan. He will soon be here in proper person to survey the political premises for himself and to take counsel from friends.

You have seen it stated, repeatedly, that Gen. Cass has been offered the position of Secretary of State and as often has the assertion been denied. It is a singular fact that the "best authority"—the General himself—is claimed on both sides of this question. The Hon. John Barney insists that Gen. Cass informed him that he had not only been offered, but has accepted the office; while the Union newsbut has accepted the office; while the Union news paper (getting the cue from the Hon. John Apple ton, the future editor of that paper, and the confidential friend of Mr. Buchanan) denies that any conclusion whatever has been attained regarding the personnel of the new cabinet.

Mr. Barney is well known in fashionable and poceived 30,000 majority? Was he (Mr. Cameron) one of the national conservative men? Look at his record. The Senatorial election was the first alarm gun, or the first flag that fluttered from the mast head as a signal of distress. He, Mr. Keitt, need not be told that some few tricky meu were bought np. A true man was not elected. It was either because of a dereliction of duty on the part of national ingrats for appreciate in Washington, and is an ex-Member of Congress. Many an anecdote might be related of this gentleman. It was he who, some years ago, got into a personal difficulty with the French Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary. As far as our memory serves us, Mr. Barney annoyed the Minister (who lived next door to him) by shoot-ingrats for appreciate an his own premises while the Minister (who lived next door to min) by snooting rats, for amusement, on his own premises; while on the other hand, the French Minister was guilty of lighting a cigar in the presence of ladies; on which occasion Mr. Barney was present, and became the chevalier of the fair and rushed forward to avenge the indignity! Rats, cigars, chivalry, and diplomatic privilege from arrest or "calling to account," and the ladies, were thus inglorionsly compounded; affording, at the time, a fine dish of gossip. Several days ago, while I was passing through the main passage of the Treasnry Department, I was asked by a raw Irishman which was the way to the "stc-retary." He stated that he had "jist arrove," and was "afther looking for him." The son of Erin had a bundle in one hand and a big stick in the state and looked much travel worn. I am of Erin had a bundle in one hand and a big stock in the other, and looked much travel worn. I am unable to say whether or not Patrick gained access to Mr. Guthrie; but from my hurried colloquy with the new-comer, I came to the conclusion that he did not intend to give the Secretary a beating, but to obtain, if he could, a "little bit of a place." It is probable that he was disappointed, for the present, and must take his chances under the administration nd must take his chances under the administration

HOT WATER FOR HOUSE PLANTS .- A COTTESpondent of the Boston Cultivator, writing of the management of house-plants, says:

The way to have healthy plants is to shorten in all The way to have healthy plants is to shorten in all straggling growth and remove every leaf and flower as soon as the least symptom of decay is perceivable, washing them occasionally with very warm water from the fine rose of a watering pot held high above them, thus giving them the benefit of a warm shower at any time or place. But the thing of all others the most important, is to water them with hot water at all times; yes, hot to the tonch, even beyond what is supposed to be prudent until after experiment—and it is only necessary to watch the result on the health and vigor of the plants, especially when in thoom, to be convinced of the value of this "grand specific."

The writer says he has Puchias now in bloom, mere cuttings about six inches in height, not one failing ont of seven or even more cuttings planted in a single pot and watered with hot water.

MASSACHUSETTS BOOT AND SHOR TRADE.-The annual value of the boots and shoes manufactured in Massachusetts is estimated at $37,000,000, and is constantly increasing. The quantity manufactured has more than tripled in the last ten years, and no more is now manufactured than is necessary to meet the demand.

The gross value of all the manufactured productions of all kinds of Massachusetts is nearly $300,-

Hogs in Indiana .- The report of the auditor of Indiana exhibits a decrease in the number of hogs. In 1855, there were 2,668 572, and in 1856, 2,277, 124, making a decrease of 391,448, or one-seventh.

NEUFCHATEL.-The difficulties which have recently sprung up in that country invest its history with much interest. A letter in the Journal of Commerce furnishes the following sketch:

Late In the afternoon we reached Nenfehated. This town lice at the foot of the Jara mountains, partly on a spur of that chain, here justing down into the lake, and partly on the email saudy plain bordering it. There are several well-built streets in the lower part of the town, and there was an air of excluencent and housiness among the people of the comfort, and even elegance and refinement without roy alty or deepotism.

Here self-government is a practice, not a theory. It is no more the dream of the philosopher, or the excuse of a restluse and rebellious spirit, but the daily blessing of many thousand obserful homes. Hence it would not surprise me if this small affair of Neufebatel, in the present state of Europe, should attract much attention, and call for the wisdom of careful diplomacy. But whatever be the policy adopted by the King of Prussia, of one thing the world may be certain—Neufchatel and Switzerland are one and indivisiole. The love of independence with that people is not a feeble cention. It is a result of the education of centuries. The people of Switzerland, though diligently engaged in the prosperous occupations of peace, and deprecating war as one of the greatest of cvils, bave not been unmindful of the changes which surround them. They can, at a day's notice, bring into the field two hundred thousand soidiers, armed and equippod, and well disciplined—soldiers, too, who have homes to hight for as well as long-cheriched rights to maintain. Such men can sa-stain themselves against the King of Prussia, as their fathers did against Charies the Bold.

At a meeting of the Board of the State Agricultural Society at Frankfort on Wednesday evening, R. W. Scott, of Franklin, was reelected Corresponding Secretary; T. P. A. Bibb, of Franklin, Recording Secretary; and James W. Tate, of Frankfort, Treasurer. The following resolutions were adopted:

Itesolved. That the selection of the time and place of holding the next Annual State Fair be postponed until the meeting of this Board on the first Taseday in March next, in the city of Frankfort.

Itesolved. That this Board will, as far as practicable, aid the publishers of "The Farm Journal," by introducing for the smaller premiums handsomely bound copies of that work.

A Heroic Woman.—A correspondent furnishes us a fact in regard to the noble conduct of a woman that deserves honorable mention. The clipper ship Neptune's Car, Capt. Jacob Patten, sailed from New York for San Francisco about the 29th of July last. The captain, on the passage, was attacked with brain fever and subsequent blindness; the chief mate having been deposed from duty previous to the captain's illness, and the second mate being incompetent to navigate the vessel, the captain's wife, who happened providentially to be on board. wife, who happened providentially to be on board, and who had been taught navigation by her husband, took charge of the ship, and brought it safely into port.—Boston Transcript.

A citizen of Bullitt, who resides on the line of the Nashville railroad, desires us to correct statement which we made last week on the authority of Mr. Gamble. Our correspondent says that after diligent inquiry he is satisfied that Mr. Gamble had made but few small contracts for woods:arcely sufficient to keep the cars running. He goes on to say:

There has been no encouragement given the to cut wood—$1 25 is what Mr. G. has offer wood on the road-side. The company now charge $7 per car load (6 cords) to bring wood 13 miles. There are now thousands of cords of wood upon the read-side rotting simply because the people were afraid to cut it for fear the company would neither buy it nor briug it to Louisville for them. Had they met with all the encouragement he would make the citizens of Louisville believe they had, there would now have been thousands of cords of wood cut and upon the road-side ready to relieve the discrete them. tressed poor of your city at a much less rate than they are now paying. All the soldiers in the Territory are now in winter quarters at Fort Leavenworth, except one company (company H., Capt. Nubie), which Gov. Garey has encamped near Lecompton for his personal safety. On New Year's day this company gave a ball, to which a number of the citizens of Lawrence were

Only think of a ball on the open prairie beside the frozen Kaw river—with the supper table-spread in a tent—of dancing with overshoes and blankets, (not shawls, but big coarse Mackinaws, such as the Indians wear)—of gentlemen slapping their hands around their bodies, while dancing, to warm their fingers, and ladies running to the camp-fire at the end of each cotillen to warm their noses.

They got tired of it about midnight, however, and all turned in to sleep under the tents. In the morning holes were broken in the ice, around which the ladies collected to wash their faces, and then having refreshed themselves with a cup of coffee, the incrry dancers set out on their return home The balls you have in the States are tame, affairs compared with the dances we get up in Kan

TOMES OF MORDECAL AND ESTHER. tombs, which are held in the highest veneration by the Jews of Persia, are situated in the centre of Hannadan, the former capital of Persia. The tombs are made of rather hard black wood, which has suffered little from the effects of time. They are covered with Hebrew inscriptions, still very legible, of which Sir John Malcolm has given the following translation: "At that time there was in the palace of Suza, a certain Jew, of the name of Mordecai; he was the son of Jair, of Shinnei, who was the son of Kigh, a Renjimite for Mardecia the Lew was the son the son of the second such that the Lew was the son the son the son that the second such that the leave we the son the son that the second such that of Kish, a Benjamite, for Mordecai the Jew was the of Kish, a Benjamite, for Mordecai the Jew was the second of that name under the King Ahasuerus, a man much distinguished among the Jews, and enjoying great consideration among his own people, auxious for their welfare, and seeking to promote the presset all Acid Seeking to promote

THE FINANCES OF CUBA .- In the Prensa of the 21st you will find an estimate of the expenses of the government of this island, presented to the Cortes by Gen. Concha. I believe this is the first time that it has been done, and gives a pretty correct idea of the expenses which Spain is under to keep "the ever faithful island." All the expenses, including $1,225,000 to be sent to Spain, and $3,575 of Regalia segars for the Court, amount to $9,057,852 50 for the first six months. The revenues of all kinds are estimated during the same period, at $9,435,242 87%.

This estimate gives but an imperfect idea of the an imperfect itea of the wealth of the island, as all the items are furnished by the custom-house. A large margin is left for smuggling, a considerable ament of which is done here yearly. Information has been received here that the Captain General will receive but $20,000 per annum instead of $50,000. Experience has demonstrated that there is no use in increasing the compensation of some people to induce them to be honest. Other large salaries will also be curtailed, and a new custom-house regulation introduced cal-culated to prevent smuggling on a grand scale.

Out at Last .- An old man named Gregg, who has been confined in Fauquier county jail since the first of October, 1846, for debt, under the old law, was released on Christmas day by jailor Cross, there being nothing left in the hands of the law to pay his jail expenses. We learn that this man had property enough to pay this claim against him, but that he preferred spending his weary hours within the gloomy walls of the county prison to paying the debt which he owed. The person who had him confined has been dead some years, but we learn put a provision in his will appropriating a sufficient amount to keep him in limbo as long as he lived. Some how or other this stipulation has given out; and of course Gregg becomes free again. When he left the jail door he appeared to be perfectly be-wildered and did not know which way to travel; but in a short time he became fully conscious of his freedom, and strutted about with the air of one who knew what liberty used to be in "by-gone days,"

An Artful Miser .- Some time ago a gentleman called upon a certain nobleman, a very wealthy and inordinately mean character, and found him at the inordinately mean character, and found him at the breakfast table, quite alone, and doing his utmost to catch a fly which was buzzing about the room. "What the dence are you about?" demanded the astonished visitor, to whom the spectacle of an old man amusing himself by catching flies seemed very singular, to say the least. "Hush!" exclaimed the other. "I'll tell you presently." After many efforts, the old fellow at last succeeded in entrapping the fly. Taking the insect carefully between his thumb and forefinger, he put it into the sugar-bowl, and quickly dropped the lid over his prisoner. His visitor, more annoyed than ever, knowing as he did the avaricious character of the man before him, repeated the question. "I'll tell you," replied the miser, a triumphant grin overspreading his countenance as he spoke. "I want to ascertain if the servants steal the sugar." vants steal the sugar.'

Making Things Comfortable .- The Boston theatre Mixing Itangs Comportative.—The Boston theatre is a model of comfort in every way. You sit on the easiest of seats, have plenty of room for your "continuations," have everywhere a good sight and hearing of the stage, are never offended by the lack of ventilation, have wide lobbies to lounge in, convenient retiring rooms to sit in, and plenty of light to see by. A gong is sounded when each new act is to see by. A gong is sonnded when each new act is to commence, and a time-keeper, showing the audience what is the hour and minute, is placed over the proscenium on a novel construction. In summer the house is so comfortable that a refreshing draught is constantly kept up all over it, and in winter it is warmed throughout by furnaces. We see it stated that, at this season of the year, it consumes nearly three tens of coals day. three tons of coal a day.

Cloth.—It is known that for some months cotton and woolen fabrics have been manufactured in our State penitentiary. It is gratifying to know that the enterprise is abundantly successful and beyond all contingency of failure. A letter to us from Gen. Besser, the model superintendent of the institution, speaks in high terms of the success of the scheme; and asserts, as we also learn from other sonrces, that cottons and woolens of a superior quality are turned out, such as to supply a considerable demand. The supply of cotton is abundant in the vicinity of the penitentiary; that of wool is not so good, but there is an ample supply within reach and the product is rapidly increasing.—Galveston Civilian.

COLD WEATHER AND PROST BITES. - Tens of thousands of persons mer annually with frosted limbs, when they could easily be cured by using Porter's Oriental Life Liniment.

Eight hundred bottles of this Liniment were sold at the principal depot in this city on Monday, the 5th of January, nearly every bottle of which was bought especially for the cure of frost-bites. This great demand for the Oriental Life Liniment is in consequence of the universal success which has attended its use in the cure of frost-bites. It is a well-known fact that hundreds of old cases, of from ten to fifteen years' standing, have been permanent ly cured by the use of this valuable remedy.

Nine o'clock by the Judge's watch, and the hour, for opening court by the ordinances of the city. Justice is in its chair—the vigilant prosecutor at his deskthe ready clerk at his table—the Marshal sings out "O, yes," and prays God, pro forma, to save the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the "Honorable Court." We look around for the occasion of the session, and find seated a forlorn indlvidual wight, William Porter, who had been testing the merits of his bottled namesake at various coffee-houses, and found it the stronger, being floored and carried off to jail by its strength. Porter was of course sober and penitent this morning. The officer who arrested him not appearing, he was dismissed.

That solitary case being disposed of, the Court dismissed itself, and all concerned dispersed, gratified with the rapidly improving morals of the city.

Expedients to Get Rid of Paupers.—Certain inhabitants of Moretown, in this State, in order to rid the town of the support of a pauper cripple, feeble in body and mind, induced a man to marry her by the payment of $60 in hand and the promise of $40 in addition. It appeared that the would-be or hired husband professed to entertain a special spite against the town of his own legal settlement, and hoped that he should, by the marriage, impose the burden on them. The ceremony took place and the parties lived together about three weeks when the husband abandoned the wife, in consummation of his original abandoned the wife, in consummation of his original purpose. On her petition for a decree of nullity, the court held that the transaction was wanting in all the essentials of a valid marriage. "It was a sham and pretence; and, in regard to the petitioner, it was a decreated and discovered for the petitioner, it was a flagrant and disgraceful fraud."

The Great Iron Steamer.—The following are some of the main particulars of the enormous iron steamof the main particulars of the enormous iron steamship now in course of construction on the Thames: Her whole length is 684 feet; breadth of beam 86 feet; diameter of paddle-wheels 121 feet; depth of hold 70 feet; depth of paddle-wheel 58 feet; diameter of screw 41 feet. There will be funnels and seven masts, two of the latter being square rigged. The nominal horse power will be 2,600, but it will work up from 6,000 to 10,000. Her measurement will be 23,640 tons. It is expected that her crew will number 750 to 800 men, including twelve chief officers. She will have accommodations for 20,000 persons, including 4,000 first class passengers; or if used as a transport, she can carry 15,000 troops and 5,000 horses. She is expected to run at the rate of sixteen miles an hour. Surely this is one of the wonders of mechanic power in the nineteenth century.

N. Y. Money Market, Jan. 12, P. M.
The ease in the money market, noticed on Saturday, has proved but temporary, as we then intimated, although the demand to-day has not led to quite as much stringency as sreported during most of last week.
The news from Europe is guite as favorable as expected.
Catton is about 1-16d per lh. higher than the quotations per North American, and breadstuffs at Liverpool are also a little firmer. At Havre breadstuffs are quiet.
The Stock market opened with a more buoyant tone but without much general improvement in prices.
Foreign Exchange is unsettled; the large bankers are anxious both to buy and seil, and of course keep their quoted rates as low as possible. Bills on London 1082,66103%, with 108% offered for large sums; Paris 5,232,685,26.

THE LADIES ARE BECOMING MORE AND MORE alive every year to the importance of Fur Wrappings, which proves most conclusively that this is a progressive age. There is nothing that does so effectually protect them against the consequences of this changeable climate as Fura, and there is nothing so comfortable, elegant, or durable. They can be had of ILAYES, CRAIG, & CO. so cheap that it would be economy to purchase Fur instead of Vertex, Cloth, or Silk Closks.

We have still a few sets of Russian Sahle, which we will dispose of so low that it would be an object to purchase them in mipsdmmer.

LADIES' FURS AT REDUCED PRICES HAYES, CRAIG, & CO. are making quite a stir among the ladies in consequence of the low price of their Furs. Having on land much too large a stock for the season, and much of it too fine for this market—at least the ladies think so—(they do not wish to bumbug their customers by "selling at cost")—have reduced their prices very materially, and are now furnishing the ladies with Furs of every description at much lower prices than thay were away. radity, and are now turnishing the insteas with F arts of ever description at much lower prices than they were ever before retailed for in the Western country, and latend to do until after Obristmas, which will afford a good opportunity to all those who wish to make Christmas presents. There certainly is nothing more seasonable for such purposes; and gentlemen inclined that way will find our Furs so low that they are within the reach of all.
